About Joe

High-energy, polished and always engaging - Joe makes live events feel effortless. From major international sporting events and corporate conferences to music festivals and automotive launches, he combines genuine warmth and humour with the professionalism and confidence needed to keep an event on track. A wealth of experience makes Joe a very safe pair of hands, with plenty of personality.

AS SEEN WITH

MACMILLAN CANCER SUPPORT

> "I've worked with Joe for a number of years, and the thing I admire most is his ability to remain composed in the most high-pressure circumstances. He's like a swan - no matter what's happening behind the scenes, on the surface he is confident, funny and collected... and that's what makes him such a fantastic live event presenter."
