About Lucy

Lucy Goodman is a sports broadcaster, presenter and arena host with a particular passion for bringing sport to life. Best known for her work in netball as Lead Commentator for Sky Sports' Netball Super League coverage, she's also arena hosted a record-breaking Grand Final at the O2, spent three years as resident host for London Mavericks, and brought her energy to rugby, basketball and volleyball audiences across the country. Equally at home behind a microphone, in front of camera or in front of a packed arena, she brings broadcast-level composure to every fixture.
